US Congressman visits AUMA-USA factory

Congressman Tim Murphy visited the factory and offices of AUMA-USA recently. The visit was part of a tour of local manufacturing firms by Congressman Murphy and a local economic development group.

The visit consisted of an explanation of AUMA's business and a tour of AUMA's new office and factory. During the visit, Congressman Murphy spoke with AUMA Managing Director – Matthias Dinse and AUMA-USA President – Sam Bennardo. Topics of discussion included AUMA's significant investment in their facility and the need for local skilled labor to manufacture and assemble AUMA's range of state-of-the-art electric motor valve actuators.

AUMA is one of a few manufacturing firms at Southpointe – a mixed use business, commercial and residential development located in Canonsburg, Washington County, Pennsylvania. AUMA moved to its Southpointe location in 2003.
